INTRODUCTION

Commerce and trade industry in India has witnessed massive developments over the years. According to specialists in this field, the job scenario in the various segments of this field is going to increase by leaps and bounds. To execute various commercial functions, most of the companies are always in search of commerce graduates for smooth working of the organisations. In order to meet the staff requirement of the companies, several institutions have come up with distance learning programmes for the students. A bachelor degree in commerce opens up a wide spectrum of job opportunities for the individuals in the various fields of trade and commerce. Most of the companies offer decent salary packages along with job security. Candidates can also look for various job openings in the banks and other financial institutions. Students who want to pursue their higher studies may also look for admission in other institutions after completing their undergraduate programme in commerce. Commerce is one of the leading career courses that ensure you a secure future.

ACADEMIC OBJECTIVES

A commerce degree from a reputed institution opens a wide variety of job opportunities in the field of finance, management consulting, marketing, accounting, entrepreneurship and human resources. There are several banks which also appoint commerce graduates for execution of various banking operations. Candidates with excellent entrepreneurship skills can also look forward to start their personal business.
